The MAN ABOUT TOWN

(BY HARRY TUCKER)

We have received a challenge, and we shall at once go into training with Mudd.

Bickerstaff has offered to throw us thirty times in thirty minutes, with no side bets, catch-if-you-can style.

"Can throw you down," said Bickerstaff.

"We have been thrown down before, figuratively speaking, and we expect to be thrown down again."

But we are willing to take chances with Bickerstaff.

He may have us beat in weight a few pounds, but we have him beat in age, so we consider that a good steal-off.

But we wish Bickerstaff to understand that if we throw him, it will not be a throw-down.

And that reminds me that we must see that big wrestling match between Over and Mudd on the Casino next week.

Someday at the postoffice don't know where Montreal is, for Jimmie Harbath, now here with the base-ball team, sent a letter there the other day and forgot to put "Canada" on the envelope.

Back it came to him to the Lexington Hotel.

"Boy, cough," said Jimmie. "I thought everybody on the map knew where Montreal was."

"Montreal is," said Charlie Atherton. "No, it isn't," said Jack Allen. "It used to be," said Joe Yeager.

"It was, but it isn't," asked Clerk Charlie Dodson.

"You'd better tell them where it is," remarked Felix Keegan.

Which Jimmie done.

"What, ho!" the school boy loudly cries, "What, ho!" aloud cries he.

"I'll be so happy when we close."

So happy, will I be.

"I'll play base-ball from morning 'till the close of day; From morning 'till evening, A game of ball I'll play."

OF HUMAN INTEREST; STORIES OF TO-DAY

A Gentleman From Virginia.

A New York correspondent says:

A stranger, who introduced himself as "C. C. Johnson," appeared at the home of Samuel M. Daniels, of No. 108 West One Hundred and Thirty-sixth Street, about two weeks ago, and inquired if Daniels remembered an old Virginia friend of the name of Green, living in Richmond.

"Certainly, I know him," replied Mr. Daniels.

Johnson produced a photograph of an excellent likeness of Green, which Mr. Daniels at once recognized.

Mr. Johnson went on:

"Green is dead. We were in Martinsburg, in the West Indies, a year or so ago, and became acquainted with Green, who often spoke of you. It was Green's good fortune to win $10,000 in a venture. Since after this he was murdered."

"Green left a will and appointed me executor of that will. I have just recovered from a protracted illness, or I should have presented myself to you before with the information that Mr. Green had stipulated in his will that I should have $2,000. I shall have to proceed to Washington to execute the papers, and as I am peculiarly embarrassed, I would like to ask the loan of about $17 until I return and fix up your check for the $2,000."

Mr. Daniels gave the man the $17. Later Johnson appeared again with unsatisfactory news about the alleged trip to Washington. He borrowed $15 more, disappeared on Friday last, he returned and made a third and last "touch" for $15, which he got.

Mr. Daniels said the stranger had told Mr. Daniels that he was an interpreter in the marine hospital at Annapolis, S. C. On Saturday morning he was held at the hospital and taken to the States Island, and was informed that no such person or position was known by any of the hospital authorities. Mr. Daniels last night asked the police to look "Johnson" up.

Mr. Daniels said he would willingly give the amount of money he lost to be assured that his old friend Green was still alive.

No Qualification.

Senator Cullom, who was one of Lincoln's intimates, says, according to the Chicago Record, that he never saw Lincoln. There was an ignorant man who once applied to Lincoln for the post of doorkeeper to the House. The man had no right to ask Lincoln for anything, so it was necessary to refuse him. But Lincoln refused him gently and whimsically. "I don't hurt his feelings, in this way," said Lincoln.

"So you want to be doorkeeper to the House, eh?"

"Yes, Mr. President."

"Well, have you ever been a doorkeeper? Have you ever had any experience of doorkeeping?"

"No, sir, I have not."

"Any theoretical experience, sir? Instructions in the duties and ethics of doorkeeping?"

"Remembered, sir."

"Have you ever attended lectures on doorkeeping?"

"No, sir."

"Have you read any text-book on the subject?"

"No, sir."

"Have you conversed with any one who has read such a book?"

"No, sir, I have not."

"Well, then, my friend, don't you see that you haven't a single qualification for this important post?" said Lincoln, in a reproachful tone.

"Yes, I do," said the applicant, and he took leave humbly, almost gratefully.
